

Infrastructure and Sub-processors for the Salesforce Marketing Cloud Services

Published: May 24, 2018

Scope

This documentation describes the infrastructure environment, sub-processors and certain other entities material to Salesforce’s provision of the following Salesforce Marketing Cloud services (collectively, for the purposes of this document, the “Covered Services”):

- Advertising Studio: Services branded or sold as Advertising Studio, Advertising Audiences, Advertising Campaigns, Journey Builder Advertising, Lead Capture, or Social.com.
- ExactTarget: Services branded or sold as Audience Builder, Automation Studio, Content Builder, ExactTarget, Email Studio, Journey Builder, Mobile Studio, or Web Studio.
- Predictive Intelligence: Services branded or sold as Predictive Intelligence, Predictive Email, Predictive Web, Web & Mobile Analytics, Einstein Web Recommendations, Einstein Email Recommendations, Einstein Recommendations or Web Personalization. The Services branded as Einstein Engagement Scoring (formerly branded as Predictive Scoring) are subject to the ExactTarget, Predictive Intelligence, and the Einstein Engagement Scoring documentation.
- Social Studio: Services branded or sold as Social Studio.

This documentation does not apply to services branded as Salesforce DMP and Salesforce Data Studio (formerly branded as Krux) or Pardot. Capitalized terms used in this documentation are defined in Salesforce’s Master Subscription Agreement and/or Data Processing Addendum.

Infrastructure – Customer Data Storage

The following table describes the countries and legal entities engaged in the storage of data submitted by customers to the Covered Services (“Customer Data”). In addition, Salesforce may store across its data storage locations identifying information about Customer’s instance(s) of the Services and identifying information about Users for the purposes of operating the Services, such as facilitating the login process and the provision of customer support.

Content Delivery Networks

The Covered Services may use content delivery networks (“CDNs”) to provide the Services, for security purposes, to support user authentication, and to optimize content delivery. CDNs are commonly used systems of distributed services that deliver content based on the geographic location of the individual accessing the content and the origin of the content provider. Content items to be served to subscribers or end users, such as images or attachments uploaded to the Services, may be stored with a CDN to expedite transmission, and information transmitted across a CDN may be accessed by the CDN to enable its functions. The following describes use of CDNs by the Covered Services.

Service Using CDNs	CDNs Used	Location	Description of CDN Services
ExactTarget, Social Studio	Akamai, Inc.	Global	Salesforce may use Akamai to provide the ExactTarget and Social Studio Services, and to optimize content delivery via these Services.
ExactTarget	Amazon Web Services, Inc.	Global	Salesforce may use AWS to provide the ExactTarget Services and to optimize content delivery via the ExactTarget Services.
